Locke Mills

—Mrs. John Mills, Corres.—

The Annual Church Meeting had to be postponed again. This time it is scheduled for Jan. 28, at 7 p. m. at the church.

The auditors have been going over the town books which have been closed and the articles are being prepared for the town report.

Mrs. Bertha Flanders, Kay McAllister and Frances Farnum accompanied Worthy Matron Susan Gilman to an Eastern Star meeting at Rumford, honoring their District Deputy, Doris Weeks, Tuesday evening.

John Mills visited his father, Verne Mills, at his home in West Greenwood, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Vera Cross and Mrs. Lillian Lapham were in Norway shopping Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Cobb, Bryant Pond, was a Tuesday afternoon visitor at the home of Mrs. John Mills.

Word has it that Mrs. Lettie Ford has been able to sit up in a wheelchair some at Ledgewood.

Would appreciate getting some more news if anyone can find time to call between snow removal of roofs, driveways, etc.

It takes nearly ten times as far to stop on ice as it does on dry surfaces.

Remember, treacherous invisible sleet forms at 32 degrees.

Pump the brakes for maximum traction when stopping.

In addition, the Maine State Police advise on winter accessories each motor vehicle should carry: tire chains, sand or traction mats, snow shovel, snow brush and a flashlight. These items could prove invaluable in time of need.

Budget Panel Reviewing Suggested Appropriations; Discontinuance of Roads Being Considered

Nomination papers are available at the Town Office for individuals interested in seeking municipal office in the March 19 Municipal election. Nomination papers must be returned to Town Clerk Merton Brown by the close of business on Monday, Feb. 26. Municipal officers to be elected are one (1) Selectman for a three year term, one (1) Assessor for a three year term and two (2) School Directors for three year terms.

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening, Jan. 29 to finalize their recommendations for the 1979 municipal budget. The budget will be reviewed by the Budget Committee starting Wednesday evening, Jan. 31 at the Fire Station.

In the main budget the Selectmen recommended town meeting appropriation amounts of $60,500 for General Government, $58,260 for Protection, $10,500 for Leisure Services, $185,163 for Public Works, $31,838 for Unclassified accounts, and $28,320 for Health, Welfare and Sanitation. The total suggested appropriation is $374,335. This reflects a 2.3% increase over 1978.

In a supplemental budget, the Selectmen recommended $5,500 for Fire Department vehicle improvements, $400 for Memorial Day, $50 for WCB Channel 10, $25 for the Maine White House Conference on Libraries, $50 for the Bethel Chamber of Commerce, $888 for Androscoggin Home Health, $1,980 for the Western Older Citizens Council, $231 for Tri-County Family Day Care, and $892 for Oxford County Community Services.

The Selectmen recommended the use of $51,000 in General Revenue Sharing funds to be applied as follows: $7,000 for General Assistance, $10,000 for Public Works Department Equipment purchases. The use of $110,000 in surplus funds was recommended to reduce the amount raised through taxation.

The Selectmen also voted to consider the discontinuance of a number of town roads which have no one living on them at their next meeting on Feb. 12. The Manager was directed to notify property owners along these roads and the Planning Board of the action to be considered. The Selectmen's meeting on Feb. 12 will be held at 7 p. m. in the meeting room of the Bethel Savings Bank.

Historical Society
Receives Funds
For Endowment

The Bethel Historical Society announced on Feb. 1, 1979, the receipt of a gift of $50,000 from the William Bingham, 2nd Trust for Charity. This gift is for endowment, and the Trustees of the William Bingham, 2nd Trust for Charity have informed the Society that subsequent gifts will result in a total endowment of $250,000 from this source.

In honor of Dr. Sidney W. Davidson the Historical Society has entitled this endowment "Sidney's Fund." Dr. Davidson, a resident of Brooklyn Heights, N. Y., and a member of the New York law firm Davidson, Dawson and Clark, has long been associated with Bethel as a former President of the Trustees of Gould Academy. It was his initiative which led to the purchase and restoration of the Moses Mason House which was presented to the Society by the William Bingham, 2nd Trust for Charity in 1974. The Moses Mason House, built in 1813 is one of the most attractive small museums of northern New England with remarkable 19th century murals. Dr. Davidson was the moving force in its meticulous restoration for which Dr. Walker O. Cain, architect of New York, was largely responsible.

The Bethel Historical Society has an active program with the current membership over 300. This splendid gift generates confidence in the long range future of the Society. The Society realizes, however, that in the last analysis its continuing strength depends upon the efforts of all members. Dr. Davidson's contribution and the assistance of the William Bingham, 2nd Trust for Charity are the beginning, not the end, of the process of securing the future of the Bethel Historical Society.

"LIFE OF OCEANOGRAPHER"
TOPIC OF OUTING CLUB
LECTURE AT GOULD, FEB. 7

The Gould Academy Outing Club will present another in its Lecture Series on Wednesday, Feb. 7, when Rick Chandler, Gould '74 and Bowdoin '78, will present an illustrated lecture entitled, "The Life of an Oceanographer" at 7:30 p. m. in the Bingham Hall auditorium.

Rick worked at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution each summer while attending Bowdoin College, and now works at WHOI in a full-time capacity. He has traveled extensively on oceanographic cruises in both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. During these trips he helped sample the ocean bottom while traveling to Scotland, Iceland, The Azores and Hawaii. His talk will be most informative to anyone interested in the sea and life on the ocean. The public is cordially invited to attend and admission is free.

M.G.R.A. DIRECTOR SAYS

Outlook for Maine
Roads is Grim

Irving Faunce, Executive Director of the Maine Good Roads Association in Augusta, told the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Bethel Inn, that Maine's highway system is deteriorating at a far faster rate than the state's program for maintenance and reconstruction reflects. As a result of what the association and even the Commissioner of Maine's Department of Transportation see as inadequate funding for roads and bridges, the highway reconstruction program, budgeted at 20 miles per year would take over 200 years to cover currently identified requirements; bridge replacement is projected to fall 50% short of requirements; program life for new roads, based on the expected durability of construction materials, is already falling three years short. The latter situation comes from an expected materials life of five years contrasted to the state's programmed life for any new section of highway, which is eight years.

Formed in 1939, the Maine Good Roads Association, according to Director Faunce, started out with a goal to "get Maine out of the mud." Apparently due to political pressure for limited spending, a declining rate of gas tax revenues in contrast to 10% inflation in road construction, and what seems to be "pork barreling" of highway projects into all seven transportation districts in the state rather than concentrating on a few critically bad links, Maine will soon be staring a 1939 situation in the face again.

What can be done? "Pay as we go" is one solution. That means an increase in gas taxes, a step which politicians are very hesitant to take. Instead new "loading tax" concepts which are linked to the rate of increase in cost of living are being looked at by planners and legislators. This concept was seen by the audience as confusing and as an attempt to paper over the real issue, acknowledging that highway costs have already shot well ahead of means used to collect from users.

The other tactic the Good Roads Association deems important is for the public to maintain pressure on the Legislature for adequate funding of highway maintenance. However, the Bethel area's concern for Routes 2 and 26 is matched by a number of equally strong concerns for other highways around the state.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO FEATURE MAIN STREET
MEETING THURSDAY (TONIGHT)

Main Street through history will be the featured topic at the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society to be held this evening (Thursday) in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House at 7:30. Slides of old photographs and selected highlights by Rosalind Chapman will be featured. Those with old photographs, anecdotes or artifacts of Main Street are especially urged to attend. Everyone welcome.

M. S. A. D. #44 DIRECTORS
TO MEET FEB. 5

The M. S. A. D. #44 board of directors will meet at 7:30 next Monday evening, Feb. 5, in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

Agenda items will include action on: staff resignations; teacher transfer for 1979-80 school year; postings of positions for 1979-80 school year; appointment of Adult Education instructors; presentation by Hot Lunch Director, Hilda Brown.

TO SELL "REBEL REVUE"
TICKETS THIS
THURSDAY EVENING

This Thursday evening (Feb. 1) members of the Telstar Regional High School Student Council and Drama Club will be knocking on doors in this area asking for your support through purchase of tickets to the First Annual "Rebel Revue." In asking for your ticket purchase they hope to give the public a chance to see them in a different and positive activity. Without public support of activities such as this, continuation is nearly impossible.

The "Rebel Revue" is a cross section of Telstar's acting, singing, and dancing talent. Featuring class skits centering on the theme "Politics as Usual," the students will poke fun at American and World political situations beginning with the opening number "The Country's In the Very Best of Hands" and hitting highlights of political situations around the world. All in a light-hearted vein, the show includes a barbershop octet, soloists from the Telstar faculty, the rock 'n' roll band "Free Wheelin'," a Dixieland band, stage band, and the "Disco Dancers" dancing to "LeFreak." There will be something for everyone, in true political fashion. Tickets can be purchased from members of the cast and Student Council tonight (Thursday) in their door-to-door campaign and thereafter at Telstar by contacting members of the Student Council and Drama Club.

Performances of the "Rebel Revue" will be presented at the Telstar Auditorium on Saturday, Feb. 10 at 2:30 and 8 p. m., and on Sunday, Feb. 11, at 2:30 p. m.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS
RESTRUCTURED DAY

On Wednesday, Feb. 7, pupils in the S. A. D. #44 elementary schools will go home at 12:30 (Anderson at 12:00) following the lunch period. This will permit teachers to participate in several professional activities during the afternoon. One of these will be to conduct several parent-teacher conferences in order to discuss pupil progress after the second marking period.

Telstar students will get out at 2:00 p. m. as usual.

DISTRIBUTION OF M.S.A.D. #44
GRADE REPORTS DELAYED

Because of the number of school cancellation days this term, the distribution of grade reports in all M.S.A.D. #44 schools has been changed from Friday, Feb. 2, to Monday, Feb. 5. This is to allow staff additional time to prepare the reports.

Facilities Committee Hears Wants of Ambulance, Town Office, Police

The Bethel Municipal Facilities Study Committee, continuing its inquiry into the requirements of public and private organizations in Bethel, met Tuesday night, Jan. 30, at the Town Office to talk with members of the Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service (B.E.A.R.S.) and with the Town Manager and Police Chief.

John Greenleaf, B.E.A.R.S. director, said the most pressing need of the ambulance service is for adequate space for the group and adequate storage space for their training equipment and operating supplies. Storage space in the group's present headquarters at the Bethel Fire Station is inadequate. Supplies for normal operations and supplies for large-scale disaster-type emergencies must both be stored in convenient attic and basement areas that make immediate utilization difficult. Additional supplies and the group's records must be kept at the Greenleaf home, where they take up about 50 square feet of space.

Much of the group's training essential to keeping it an alert, responsive emergency unit, must presently be conducted in the same space in which the ambulance is stored. While some of the training is done with the ambulance, using its equipment, much of the training requires the ambulance to be put outside, to free the space for training of other types. The group uses rooms at Telstar Regional High School, when they are available, for some of its training, but that requires moving bulky, heavy equipment to the school, making it unavailable for immediate use should the ambulance be called out on an emergency. The B. E. A. R. S. answered 155 calls in 1978; 170 in 1977. There were 22 calls in December 1978; 18 in January 1979.

Besides the immediate need for additional storage and training space, the B.E.A.R.S. also have long-term needs for additional space and facilities. It is anticipated that the town will acquire a second ambulance in the future to give the B.E.A.R.S. a backup unit, with the new vehicle, adequate heated storage space for two ambulances will be required. The other major long-range need is for a permanent meeting, training and storage area. Both major long-term needs could be answered by a building large enough for two vehicles, with storage, meeting and training space adjacent to the vehicles.

While the B.E.A.R.S. find their present location at the Fire Station a good one, with good routes available for them to make most of their calls without delay, they feel that a location such as that

Winter Carnival Program to Dedicate
Each Day to Different Activity

The Bethel recreational area winter carnival will begin with a welcome home day on Friday, Feb. 16. Thereafter each day of the remaining eight days in this year's carnival will spot light various components of a complete winter vacation in Bethel.

The whole calendar is as follows:

—Feb. 16, Friday: Welcome Home Day
—Feb. 17, Saturday: Bethel Day
—Feb. 18, Sunday: Family Day
—Feb. 19, Monday: George Washington Special Day
—Feb. 20, Tuesday: Club Day
—Feb. 21, Wednesday: Sunday River Day
—Feb. 22, Thursday: Heritage Day
—Feb. 23, Friday: Mt. Abram Day
—Feb. 24, Saturday: Snowwisters Day

What won't be on the program? There will be no carnival queen contest this year, as announced earlier. Apparently as a sign of val has faded into history. The keynote for activities this year is participation.

There are many other events already included in the program. A complete printed program will be available in ski areas, lodgings and Prim's Pharmacy by Feb. 15.

Next week's Bethel Citizen will also carry the complete program. The four ski and ski touring areas plan to have drawings for door prizes or special events in their respective days. Gould Academy will be presenting a special three day stage performance starting Feb. 16. In addition, Gould will be hosting a free, special appearance of the Buckfield "Leather in Leather" variety show on Wednesday night of carnival week. Young Life will sponsor a disco dance on Saturday, Feb. 24.

The Bethel Lions Club will sponsor an ice sculpture contest throughout the carnival week as well as a special baseball game on snowshoes on George Washington Specials' Day.

QUEEN CANDIDATES AT ANDOVER

These young ladies are vying for the title of queen of the Pineland Ski Club Winter Carnival which will be held Saturday, Feb. 24, at Andover. Left to right: Elaine Roseberry and Dorothy Morton.

Elaine, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Sessions. She is a junior at Telstar Regional High School and presently enrolled in the NOVA nurse's aide training course at Rumford Community Hospital.

Dorothy, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Morton, and is a senior at Telstar. She is also employed as a clerical aide at Andover Elementary School under the Co-Op Program.

The Coronation Ball, with music by "Movin' On", will be held at the Andover Town Hall, Saturday, Feb. 24, at 7:30 p. m.

Hi, to the readers at home and abroad. We have all survived the week that was, and have braced our feet for another to come. Dicky Robbins of Trap Corner Store thinks he has all the snow in his door yard but we have informed him otherwise. Frank Perham has plowed my yard eight times since Dec. 24. All the towns will be bankrupt from snow bills and salt bills, and we will all be together. That's togetherness. I believe that too much walking on the moon causes our troubles. The kids in the neighborhood were glad that I couldn't look out the window, but the snow will melt eventually, I hope.

We were sorry to hear that Mrs. Adeline Stevens has been hospitalized for surgery. We sent best wishes to her. She is at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. Susan Lyons returned from Medford, Mass., Jan. 27, and she said no snow there the past week but rain, rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card went to Bethel Jan. 28, to a surprise 40th anniversary party for the Cards (of Norway) at the Legion Hall. A sure surprise to Herman but a little bird told Thelma. Seventy-six people present. Thelma graduated from Gould Academy in 1928. A good time was had by all. A money tree and other gifts were presented to them. This was scheduled for Jan. 21 but was postponed due to the weather.

David Lyons and Lucius Newton had the flu bug the past week and were at home a few days.

Callers at Lawrence's: Nancy, Heather, Timmy Mason, Frank Perham, Jeanne, Maureen, Sherry, Brenda Millett, Jean Maglione, Dale Coffin, Jeff and Jimbo, Stevie Millett. Jimbo and Stevie stayed all night Saturday night.

The children went to school Thursday but were dismissed at 10 a. m. No school Friday. Penley Corporation shut their mill down after 2 o'clock Thursday, the first time in years.

I had a letter from Pete and Hazel Collett, Wilmington, Del., and clippings about a People's Cult, ten miles from them on Route 202. It reads like a second Jones Town. I didn't have any idea that U. S. authorities allowed those goings on. Maybe I am behind the times.

When my father, Frank Coffin, lived in the "Good Ole Days" and we had a blizzard so he couldn't work in the woods, he liked to bake a pot of dry green peas and have my mother bake a batch of biscuits. Last Thursday I baked a pot of green peas and had biscuits. The peas were like the old days but my biscuits didn't taste like my mother's, for no one could make biscuits like she did and I know.

Eveline Barratt and Doris Lawrence had the antenna men do some work Wednesday. Now I can get channel 6 and Doris can get 8.

No school Friday and Thursday school kept a half day. Thursday, Jody Shimamura got an S.O.S. from Debbie Stearns that she had a leak so Ira took him and Richard Saunders down to shovel off her roof and later Joe Shimamura asked Ira if he would drive him down to Telstar to get Gerry as his vehicle would not go through the heavy, rain soaked, unplowed snow.

Friday evening, Robert Saunders took his brother, Richard, and Ira Gibson to the movies in Rumford. They found the road very bad after the storm.

I drove up to Gilead and had a nice visit with Frank Gibson III, Karen and Tinker, and Grace when she came home from the Spa.

Saturday I asked Gerry Shimamura if she could go down with Ira and I to pick up our Navy son, George, who was flying into Portland from Virginia. Our car is not running as of this time. We left before dinner and had our dinner at the Hu Ke Lau in the Maine Mall. We also went into the Heartland Discount Store as we had heard they had good bargains. On the way home we stopped in Norway to my parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, where we ate supper.

Pie, Dennis Smith called his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Jr., Saturday from Ft. Carson, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon and two girls all went for a cross-country ski outing one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman, Nick and friends drove up to Aziccoos Dam Sunday and came back through Gratton Notch.

Mackie Chapman, Vince, and Danny Myers, went into the camp on North Pond and shoveled off the roof. Any out-of-staters, who have camps in this region and have not had someone check them out, would be wise to have their roofs checked.

Tom Gibbs had the starter stolen off his snow machine parked in their dooryard.

Almost across the street Mr. and Mrs. Roland Glines entertained Greg and Sara Glines from Randolph, N. H., Sunday. This was in observance of Roland's birthday on Jan. 31, Greg's on Feb. 6, and Sara's on Jan. 6.

Mrs. Charles Mason III and two children went to Norway Saturday.

David Cole, Dana Dike, Chris Johnson brought a wood burning kit. Everyone enjoyed using it. Some members burned their name in the wood and some members burned over pictures. The refreshments of fudge and peanut butter cookies were enjoyed. On Jan. 2, 1979, The Jolly Workers had a regular meeting and the members filled in the worksheets. Jan. 16, 1979 they met at Judy Foster's house. The members enrolled in food and nutrition club. The Jolly Workers made two kinds of cookies, peanut butter and oatmeal. The Jolly Workers discussed the healthy foods and went home at 3:00.

TELSTAR GIRLS EDGE, 26-24 BY LISBON, SATURDAY

Visiting Lisbon shut out Telstar in the third period Saturday and held on for a 26-24 MVC girls' basketball win in a makeup of a game postponed the previous Thursday.

Trailing 13-9 at half time, the Greyhounds scored 10 points in the third frame for a 19-13 lead. The Rebels came no closer than the final outcome.

Monique Noel led Lisbon, 5-7, with 11 points while Pam Bean scored 12 to pace Telstar, 1-13.

Karen Hakala scored the game-winning overtime to give Telstar a 43-41 victory in the junior varsity game. Hakala led all scorers with 18 points.

Mackie Chapman's grandfather, Hermon Cummings, passed away Jan. 29. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cummings, and sister Debbie Swick and Debbie's daughter, Tracey Ray, planned to drive up from New Jersey, arriving Jan. 30 to stay with Mackie and Howard.

The funeral was at Andrews funeral home Wednesday evening.

STATE OF MAINE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Karen L. Brown

January 27
Last October the Legislature approved the $64 tax rebate to property owners and the $32 tax rebate to renters. However, those people who are not required to file Maine income tax returns, because of income level or other reasons, will not receive the rebate unless they submit a special application.

Many elderly people missed out on the elderly tax and rent relief program because they did not file before the Oct. 15 deadline. This same situation could occur, especially to low income elderly people, with the current $64-$32 tax rebates. If you do not file an income tax return, you MUST submit a special application to receive the rebate.

I will leave some application forms at the Town Manager's Office or they are available from the Bureau of Taxation.

During this session, the 109th Legislature will be considering "Right to Work" legislation. Some of you may have heard a great deal about "Right to Work," but many may be unfamiliar with what such legislation would do. The issue of "Right to Work" has stirred much controversy.

What is "Right to Work" Legislation?

Some labor-employer contracts contain provisions requiring workers to join the union as a condition of keeping their job with the company. In some cases the employee may not be required to join the union, but must pay the union dues. The reasoning is that any person working in the firm profits from union-negotiated wage increases or benefits, and should therefore be required to either join the union or pay the dues.

Federal law allows states to prohibit labor contract provisions which require compulsory union dues. If Maine adopted "Right to Work" legislation no employee could be compelled to join a union or pay the union dues in order to hold a job. However, an employee could choose to join the union or pay the union dues, if he or she so desired.

I plan to circulate a questionnaire on the issue of "Right to Work" laws before the bill is debated in the House. I hope that you will take the opportunity to complete the questionnaire so that I may be better informed about your views when the issue comes to a vote.

Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres.

The Errol school closed because of the storm one day. This is a rare occurrence.

The Junior Arons have purchased a second hand snow blower which he is putting into condition to fight their personal snow pile.

Laurie Bergeron visited her aunts several days this week. Joe Berniers came by on Sunday. Kathy Bernier is presently living in Jackson, Tenn., where has employment.

Roland Bernier used his tractor to widen Laurent and Fred Lavalles' driveway. These cover mounts up and become more difficult to move as it paws with warm weather and some rain.

The Arons saw a moose cross the field by their house last Saturday afternoon.

REBELS DEFEAT LISBON

BY SIX, FRIDAY

Telstar converted only 15 times at the foul line but received 37 chances, providing the margin for a 45-39 Mountain Valley basketball conference victory over Lisbon Friday. The visitors made nine out of 18 at the line but drew 21 personal to Telstar's 18, on top of which Lisbon was called for eight technicals.

Field goals were 15 apiece. The sloppy match found Bob Seames of Telstar the scoring leader with five goals and seven out of 15 at the free throw line. Telstar got 21 opportunities at the stripe in the second half.

The hosts led by 13 points at the half and still held an advantage of nine entering the final period. Dave Barden of Lisbon was the only player fouling out. In the preliminary Telstar Jayvees broke a three-year losing streak with a 46-37 triumph.

BIT AND SPUR RIDING CLUB

MET TUESDAY, JAN. 16

The January meeting of the Bit and Spur Riding Club was held Tuesday evening, Jan. 16, in the Community Room of the Bethel Savings Bank. Guest speaker, Dr. James Hudson D. V. M., presented a very informative lecture on the health, care and nutritional requirements of horses.

All members are reminded that the next scheduled meeting will be on Monday, Feb. 5 at 8 p. m. at the Dempsey home on the Howard Pond Road in Hanover. The program for that meeting includes two films on the grooming, training and handling of horses.

Members who need transportation to meeting should contact Kathy Carver, Dianne Leighton or Don James. They will see that you have a ride.

MESSALONKEE HAS 17-POINT MARGIN OVER TELSTAR BOYS

IN TUESDAY HOOP ACTION

Messalonskee employed its superior height to full advantage Tuesday night for a 74-57 MVC basketball victory over Telstar.

The Eagles are now 12-2, two games from clinching a tie for the Mountain Division championship, while the Rebels fall to 4-11. Leading 10-6 after one quarter, Messalonskee kept building the lead until it was 52-34 after three Led by 6 foot 5 inch center Dave Anicetti, Messalonskee drew many fouls, and took advantage of the situation by making 20 free throws to just nine for Telstar.

Anicetti finished with 15 points. Peter Fenelon was right behind him with 14 points and Dean Johnson had 11. Bobby Seames pumped in 20 points to lead all scorers for Telstar while Kendall Keniston had 12 and Mark Kendall 10.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all those who remembered me with cards, flowers, prayers and visits while I was in the Rumford Hospital. The food that was brought in since I came home was delicious and very much appreciated. Thank you all so much.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP MEETS
The Women's Fellowship of the West Parish Congregational Church met Wednesday morning, Jan. 24, at the home of Ruth Verville. Maxine Brown led the devotions.

At the short business meeting the church fairs and workshops were discussed. Jean Ness and Sandra Caton will be leaders for the crafts meetings. Workshops will begin in March.

The rest of the morning passed all too quickly as Mrs. Jane Grover told the 16 ladies present of her travels with her husband while members of the International Volunteer Services, and the Peace Corps. They spent some time in Laos, India, Uganda and Kenya. Mrs. Grover showed some Laotian dolls intricately hand made and hand woven fabrics.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Frances Harding and Maxine Brown.

Next meeting will be Feb. 28
with Emily Saunders and Daisy
LeClair as hostesses.

BABY SHOWER
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bean, West Bethel, was the scene of a very pretty baby shower on Sunday. It was given in honor of Lorna Bean.

The refreshment table was decorated in white and yellow with a large paper stork holding a baby in a swing suspended from his bill.
The cake was made and decorated by Ariene Bean, in the shape of a baby carriage, and decorated in green and yellow. Refreshments consisted of crackers, chips, dips, brownies, lemon squares, and cookies, punch and coffee.

Twenty-three guests attended and Lorna received many beautiful and useful gifts, which was greatly appreciated.

MR. AND MRS. CARD OBSERVE 40th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card were honored by friends and relatives at a 40th wedding anniversary party Sunday, Jan. 28, at the American Legion Hall, Bethel. The celebration was planned by Mrs.
Card's sisters, Norma Jodrey and
Ruth Kittredge; her sister-in-law, Monique Rolfe; and nephew and wife, John E. and Ruth Grover.
Over 75 guests enjoyed a pot luck dinner and beautiful anniversary cake made by their niece, Lucretia
Rand, of Oxford.

The couple was presented gifts and a money tree and greetings were read from several out of state friends who were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Card (the former Thelma Rolfe) were united in marriage on Jan. 21, 1939, by Rev. John Singleton at the Methuen Parsonage, South Paris. Attendants were Mrs. Singleton and Robert Card, brother of the groom.
They make their home in Norway.

"NORSEMAN INN" FEATURED
IN DOWN EAST'S 1979 ANNUAL
"MAINE TODAY"

The Norseman Inn in Bethel, the Center Lovell Inn, and Maurice in South Paris, are among 27 Maine eating establishments selected for inclusion in an article on foreign restaurants in Down East Magazine's new 1979 Annual, "Maine Today."

Highlighting the quality and diversity of life in Maine, the Annual also carries articles on the state's forest industry, private schools, entertaining arts, painters, and the environment, as well as a look at Portland's dramatic face-lifting. According to the article on dining out, the past 10 years have seen a marked increase in the number of continental and foreign restaurants throughout the state. No longer does one have to travel to Boston or New York to sample such unusual dishes as lobster Fra Diavolo or coquilles St. Jacques. It's all here within the Pine Tree State, adding a refreshing change of pace to life in Maine.

The largest issue ever published by Down East Magazine, the 184-page Annual is on sale now at local newsstands.

Wilbur Chenery. At a recent Budget Committee meeting it was suggested to Mr. Chenery that he try to cut some expenses where possible. The Winter Roads budget in Andover has increased from $21,805.71 in 1975 to $36,746.42 in 1978. This represents an increase of 70% in four years. Possible ways of cutting expenses include less use of salt. The 1978 salt bill was over $10,000.00. It was suggested that the hours of Mr. Chenery's helper be limited to 40 unless there is a storm.

Work continues on the Town Report, which will be submitted to the printers by the end of next week.

Maurice Goudreau was hired to professionally evaluate the property record cards which have recently been made for every building in Andover.

A warrant of $17,096.53 was signed. This included a payroll of $2,068.15, MSAD #44 $14,326.11 and other expenses amounting to $712.27.

of the highway garage on Cross Street would be equally good. They presently must go there to get gas; the ambulance is washed at the M.S.A.D. #44 Transportation Garage, when the buses are out, because lack of drains at the Fire Station make it impossible to wash the ambulance there.

The B.E.A.R.S. presently have 21 members, fully trained in emergency procedures; 17 of the 21 are presently active in the organization; 14 are licensed, and more will be licensed as soon as the State prepares examinations to administer. At least two persons are always on call.

Mr. Greenleaf also talked of the need for better Civil Emergency Preparedness (CEP) facilities at the fire station. Again there is a storage problem and a space problem. The room set aside for CEP activities in the fire station's basement is too small to meet federal requirements for a town of Bethel's size. The basement storage used by the B.E.A.R.S. is actually the storage space set aside for CEP supplies as well, so there is crowding. Should the town wish to set up a proper emergency operations center, federal funding is available. It would pay half the cost of new facilities and give the town an emergency generator, something it presently lacks. Equipping town vehicles and the town office with radio communications is a good emergency communications system, but at present it has no back-up power. An upgraded CEP center would give the town the back-up generator it needs, and make the town much more ready to meet any emergency. Both Mr. Greenleaf and Town Manager Norman Ness pointed out that in an emergency close coordination will be absolutely necessary to have an effective response.

Town Manager Norman Ness then outlined for the committee the work of the Town Office. The present staff of four includes the Town Manager, Town Clerk, a bookkeeper and a full time clerk-typist. Though town compliance with increasing state and federal regulations involves a much greater work load for the personnel than was true a decade ago, no growth in staff is anticipated immediately. Eventually state involvement in the property assessment may require the town to hire a professional assessor, whose duties might be combined with those of a code administrator on the town staff. Mr. Ness felt that additional staff assistance will only be justified under such federal programs as CETA. Bethel presently has one staff assistant working in the Town Office under the CETA program as an aide to several town committees.

The Town Office is presently located in the Cole Block on Main Street, in the street-level space occupied by the Casco Bank from 1946 to 1968. While this means that a fireproof vault is available for safe storage of town records, in many respects the present quarters are inadequate for the needs of town government. The Town Manager's office is too small for a private meeting with more than one or two people. The office space for the rest of the staff is poorly arranged, so that records cannot be kept close to where they are used and there is no convenient place to put office machines. The one meeting room available is too small for many of the uses to which it is put, and cannot be securely separated from the rest of the office.

Asked by the committee to assess the town's present and future needs for office and meeting space, Mr. Ness described the sort of facility he thinks may be necessary.

It would be one that includes a Town Manager's office large enough to permit the manager to meet with five or six citizens privately. It would have a small private office for the use of citizens consulting vital statistics; private perusal of such records is now a requirement of law. It would have a private office of moderate size for use by a possible assessor/code

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Collista Morgan, Corres. —
On this wet January afternoon, I am wondering what I can write about. The leaden clouds are pressing a drizzle from the sky and I can capture that and the stillness all right.

The silent scene before me is one I have surveyed many times at all hours of the day with its variations from season to season. All around, the ghost forest seems to be waiting, listening, freed of its snow-bent branches of yesterday. To look at it one gets the sensation of smallness.

But every day this week hasn't been snowy or rainy. There has been sun, too. I have found time to walk a dozen miles.

One day I left the road to go to the brook between the ponds. The sound under the bridge I remember. There was a bell-like tinkling as the water flowed among the rocks. It was somewhat like an empty tin can being lifted and dropped in rhythm. It was musical and soothing as it flowed on the catfalls tumbling before the breeze.

I walked across the crude bridge of planks and waited for a time to look around. Then I followed the trail back to the road. The snow was so soft that it deadened my footfalls like a plush rug. The only sound I heard was the call of the jay; this time using his bell-finkle voice.

I especially noticed the poplar trees today because their bark was such a greenish gray growing among the other trees.

Far out on Mud Pond I heard the call of the raven, unusually conspicuous against the whiteness of the snow. It seemed twice its ordinary size, a phenomenon probably due to mirage.

To the right of the raven the water was open to view, where the brook that came under the bridge a long way back; twisted and turned finding its way to enter a shallow basin and escape into the pond.

Above, the blue sky was aglow with benign sunshine. I soaked it up letting my mind romp free and allowing my gaze to fall upon whatever was of interest.

In a short time the raven, basking there lifted his undercarriage, flapped his wings and went above the forest trees toward the north.

I continued today to the end of Mud Pond, beyond where I usually walk.

In this section I always marvel at the huge boulders among the trees; worn by the rains, disintegrated in places by the winds and frost but standing bold as they have done through many, many years. The sun gilds them with a light which thins, rises, or vanishes, as the day progresses. Lichens cover the sides beneath a tree fallen against one of them. There are ferneries in shady nooks.

Everything here was under a clean, white blanket just waiting for a new chapter to be written.

Facing toward home I could see the blue-green distance of evergreens and the occasional glimmer of shining points of roofs.

Trees along the way nodded and whispered their winter's plans. I heard the throb of little hammers, the nuthatch just at my side.

The road ran curving away into the distance. The valley stretched, shallow and sunlit bounded by the hills.

It was a glorious afternoon. "The distant hill and mountains high, The rolling hills and right blue sky, No one can take these views from me As long as I have eyes to see,"

Ray Zander

The snowmobilers, the skiers, and the fishermen had a grand time on the pond on Sunday. There was more activity than there had been all winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownan, Seakonk, Mass., were here at their cottage for the week end to do some skiing.

The Sedars were here at their home on the old Cole place over the week end.

Mrs. Edla Tamlander is again at Ledgeview in West Paris and is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt and Danny of Windsor were at their

Mrs. Lucy Bragg and son, Tommy and a friend spent the day, Sunday, with Mr. and Mrs. Rex Felton and Kathy Curtis. There was a cake and gifts for three year old Tommy, who was having a birthday.

Frank Curtis had a share of the cake, too, for he was having a birthday, also, but not his third. He had telephone calls from Phil and Dorothy Bentley in Auburn, his twin brother Fred, and wife Rena, and a nephew, Albert, all in East Sumner. Another nephew, Carl, and his wife, Betty from Locke Mills called for a short time. On Saturday evening Mildred Bowman, of Hebron, was there to see Dorothy Curtis.

Dorothy Curtis was at Ledgeview recently to visit Edla Tamlander.

Snowing and the wind is blowing hard this morning. Such crazy weather!

Callers at the home of Hugh and Edith Stearns this week were Edwin and Ruth Bumpus, Mark Stearns and Dean Peaco.

On Friday evening, Jason Inman was guest of honor at a birthday party at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Inman. Other family members were his Dad, Andy Inman, Mike and Michelle Inman, Nita Inman, Terry and Frank Howard and Hugh and Edith Stearns.

Sunday Barbara Inman and Terry Howard helped Edith Stearns do some wallpapering and the men folks went ice fishing.

Saturday night supper guests at the home of Albert and Elma McAllister were Earl and Vivian McAllister, Jackie and Dean. Sunday, Albert and Elma attended the anniversary surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card at the Legion Hall in Bethel.

Dale Scribner and some friends had supper with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scribner on Saturday night.

Callers at the Barton Farm this last week were Judy James, Don Leino and Dick and I and the boys.

Andy Jacobs went to Acton, Mass., this week end to visit his Dad, Dana Jacobs.

— Mrs. Marian Chase, Corres. —
Miss Stacy Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Todd, was guest of honor at a party Saturday on her eighth birthday. Also present were Nina McLaughlin, Kelley Bartlett, Amy McCann, Michele Dean, Lisa Akers, Karen and Lisa Ruokolainen. Games were played and refreshments of a decorated cake and ice cream were served.

Ms Vicky Millett and Bob Runstrom, Lori, of Greene were week end guests of Mrs. Lula Buck.

Mrs. Dorothy Cram and Amy, Oxford; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Cram, South Paris, called on Mr. and Mrs. Stan Cram, Mrs. Arlene Farr, Mrs. Lyndell Farr on Sunday.

Mrs. Norine Ring and Waino Kujala were married Jan. 20.

Linwood Buck was admitted to Stephens Memorial Hospital on Sunday.

Mrs. Frances Millett and Andrea from Lewiston, Mrs. Doryce Green of South Paris called on Mrs. Lula Buck over the week end.

Senior Citizens will meet Feb. 6 at the Legion Hall for a pot luck dinner at noon, followed by a business meeting. Gordon Ellis of Sumner will demonstrate the making of shoes. Mrs. Gladys Ellingwood will make the birthday cake.

Margaret Barton visited friends in Denmark. On Saturday they visited family and friends in Brownfield.

All hands here at K-D's Acres have spent the last week digging out from under all the snow. I feel as though I was living in an igloo! About the only caller we had last week was Gus McAllister.

We went down to see the folks on Sunday. Elton and Chris stopped in for a visit while we were there. Very glad to hear that all is well at Fuller Drive in Hudson, N. H. Was beginning to wonder if all had moved to parts unknown.

When I write again it will be in February, one step closer to spring! Have a good week every one.

Sunday River

— Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres. —
George Morin is home after his last accident.

The children did not have school Friday because of the snow storm.

Well, most of the news is mostly wet with rain and 10 inches of snow.

Sent in by Mrs. Eva Yates:
Monday, 22—what a mess we have underfoot—corn meal snow with an inch of ice on top. Terrible. Believe Tuesday was quite nice and we had more or less sunshine.

Eva Yates and Russell entertained at a chicken supper Tuesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hutchins and Lucy Adams and Gi-Gi.

Wednesday, mostly cloudy—but Verna Swan was a caller.

Thursday—what a day—mostly snow but stormed hard all day. No doubt it will clear off cloudy with more storms. Schools closed early. One Sunday River bus refused to run so was hauled in by a wrecker. Friday—no schools at all on account of bad traveling, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Yates in company of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Thurston left Friday P. M. for Boston to take a plane for Australia.

CARD OF THANKS
May I thank everyone for the many cards, gifts, flowers, phone calls and mementos that I so greatly enjoyed on the occasion of my 100th birthday. Bless you all for your thoughtfulness.

Edith Quimby

trials for a two weeks skiing trip. No phone calls will reach Bryce for two weeks. Mrs. Myrna Carter is helping Edwick to hold down the fort, and Selma.

Eva and Russell Yates attended the Grange workshop at South Paris Saturday. It was warm but how it did rain. At one time the snow took a slide off the Grange Hall and several thought the roof was caving in on us. It was just one big hunk of ice and snow. South Paris Grange furnished a nice lunch to all. A most instructive meeting.

West Bethel

— Mrs. Lona Gilbert, Corres. —

Monday morning temperature in mid 30° range and quite a lot of clouds. We had all kinds of weather—here the past week, rain, sleet and snow. Most people here were busy on the week end shoveling off the roofs of buildings, as quite a few inches of snow followed the sleet storm which came earlier. The sun is trying to break through the clouds but weatherman predicts flurries today. Everyone here knows what the weather has been in this area. I give this account for the ones that read the paper in other states, as the Oxford County Citizen has a wide circulation.

Mrs. Richard Hosterman was in Kingston, Mass., recently to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert and family of South Paris, were in town Saturday to visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. Maxine Lovejoy was in Rumford Monday to visit her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gallant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Francisco of Jacksonville, Fla., are receiving congratulations on the birth of twin boys. They have been named, John Charles and Brian Mitchell. Mrs. Maxine Lovejoy of West Bethel is the babies' great grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Mitchell of Jacksonville, Fla., are the maternal grandparents. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Davene Marble of West Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Boyd were in Woodville, N. H., on the week end to visit his mother, Mrs. George Boyd, who I reported last week, as being a patient in Woodville Hospital after suffering a heart attack. She had another slight attack, so had to be put back in intensive care. The doctor said he thought she would be able to be taken out of intensive care again in a few days.

Mrs. Ruth Grover is reported gaining. Her grandson, Dr. James Schmidt of Readfield, visited her this past week. Other out-of-town visitors were Jane Luxton and son, Scott of Rumford and Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell III, Falmouth.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell on the week end were: Michael Stowell of Danbury, Ct., and his children, Suzanne and Michael of Lisbon, N. H. and Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell III of Falmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kanten's little daughter, Kelly Lynn, celebrated her second birthday on Friday, Jan. 26. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Parsons and family, West Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. Rick Lewis and Jamie, Bethel. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, birthday cake and crackers were served. Kelly's mother made and decorated the birthday cake.

Willing Workers

A meeting of the Willing Workers was called by the President, Alicia Stevens, held at the Community Room at the Bethel Bank at West Paris. Five attended the meeting: Olive Danforth, Nancy Mason, Dorothy Conley, Barbara Cash and Alicia Stevens.

The two babies born in January to West Bethel parents: Wade Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Luxton and Amy Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hale, are reported to be doing just fine.

Get well cards were sent to Bernice Davis, Myrtle Thurlow and Olive Davis.

They voted to have the meetings on the second Monday of each month and to pay dues each year, due in February.

A word will be given from the Bible and each will have a verse from the good book, with the word in it to read at each meeting.

The Christmas sock will be renewed and each one will put in a penny for each month. February will be two pennies.

The next meeting will be Feb. 12. The place will be announced later.

Thursday we had a rough storm which dumped about a foot of snow in this area; wind blew the snow into the buildings where it found a crack.

The snow is up to my window sills now. It is hard to find places to put the stuff. This storm was heavy and hard to plow. People should be looking after camps or flat buildings if they can now to save a cave-in.

Schools let out early today and the mills allowed their help to go home early so they could be in before the storm was any worse. I hope February will be a better month, weather wise.

There are a few animals trying to keep alive. I had three big gray squirrels and a red squirrel at the bird feeder. They filled up and I hope went back to sleep until the weather is better.

The ice storm made roads very slippery. After a while we got the hill sanded so I could get out with the car to replenish the sand. Jeffrey Campbell helped me with the shoveling and carrying the sand in pails in back of the truck.

German Diary

by Ann Morton

This week I'll explain more about East Berlin as a result of a nice day spent there and a not so nice denied request to go elsewhere in East Germany.

The Air Force and Army regularly run shopping and sight-seeing tours to East Berlin for active military, civilians and dependents. On Friday I boarded an Air Force tour bus with about forty women eager for a day of shopping. The trip takes a bit over an hour, counting the stop at Checkpoint Charlie to check our papers, so we had a chance to get acquainted a bit. When we arrived at Alexanderplatz, the main shopping area of the city, most of the passengers got off the bus, but several of us accepted the bus driver's offer to take us several miles north to a special crystal shop. My goal for the day was to find and purchase three more featherbeds (similar to our down-filled puffs). A friend had told me that she saw some recently near the crystal shop, so I took off like a rabbit hound on a fresh track. After covering both sides of the street for a mile or more in each direction, I returned to the bus empty-handed. This part of the city was drab and still pock-marked from the war bombings. The only colorful windows were toy stores or children's clothing shops.

Back at Alexanderplatz I did some quick checking at the Centrum, a huge modern department store, and grabbed a bockwurst at a snack bar to eat as I walked. The shop where we purchased our first two featherbeds was ten blocks away, and it was snowing hard as I started in that direction. I had just two hours left before the bus was to return to West Berlin.

As I walked those long blocks at a rapid pace, I recalled the lady who told me that day that she never dared shop anywhere in the East, out of sight of the bus. Since timidity and worrying about what might possibly happen are not my style, I had to continue alone. No one on the tour would have been able to keep up with me, as some of you know.

The shops and buildings were interesting, and I popped into a few to see if any featherbeds were hidden away there. After nearly an hour's walk I saw a sign to Warsaw and wondered how far I had walked!

At last the shop appeared, and I was delighted to learn that they had featherbeds as well as covers for them and for our large square down pillows. In my haste to purchase a bright red and two bright blue featherbeds, one problem failed to concern me: how could I carry a large canvas bag (L. L. Bean), a pocketbook, and three large featherbeds several miles back to the bus? Unfortunately, we are not allowed to ride public transportation in East Berlin, so the chance to catch a bus or subway was out. A helpful lady opened the shop door for me, and there I was on the sidewalk, taking up the space of three people and trying to look inconspicuous as I retraced my steps to Alexanderplatz along Karl Marx Allee.

In the past, the East Berliners have appeared very sober, and they passed by seemingly unaware of anyone or anything. All that changed now. Not that everyone snickered at this apparition in a snowstorm nearly enveloped in bright red and blue parcels. Some merely stopped and stared, and others poked a companion and ceased their conversation until I had passed. By the time the bus was visible at the end of an hour's walk, those feathers weighed a ton, but the mission had been completed successfully. Let the snow and cold weather continue in Berlin, we five are warm and cozy.

Earlier in the week, we tried to get a visa and permission to rent a car and drive to East Germany to watch my niece, Leslie Bancroft, compete with the U. S. Ski Team in a cross-country meet with the East German women.

Everyone at the Berlin Brigade Headquarters was so helpful and told me what procedures would be followed. However, the East Germans had other ideas. We learned that we could not go to East Germany for just a day trip. East Berlin is the only exception to this rule. If we went for more than one day to visit friends or relatives, it would take at least a month to get a visa. Since we had only a two-week notice, it was frustrating for us to know that a relative was only about 150 miles away, and we could not arrange a visit with her.

ELDERLY MAN PERISHES IN WATERFORD HOUSE FIRE

A fire Monday evening which completely destroyed a home in the Bisbee town area of North Waterford, also took the life of its sole resident, Stephen Spofford, a retired tool and die cutter, who had moved to No. Waterford from the Boston area several years ago.

The North Waterford Fire Dept. with fire chief Steve Wilson, responded to the first alarm which was sounded at 8 p. m. High winds and the severity of the blaze prompted a second alarm, calling two engines from East Stoneham and one each from South Waterford and Waterford Flat. Oxford County Sheriff Alton Howe and Deputy Bob Wood were both at the scene to help with traffic control and communications. A portable light was secured from the Norway Fire Department.

Firemen were working at the scene all night to contain the fire and it was nearly five o'clock Tuesday morning before they were able to remove Mr. Spofford's body from the ruins. The State Fire Marshal is investigating, and reportedly stated that it would be difficult to determine the cause of the blaze, but that it was believed to have started in the kitchen area. The Spofford home was one of the oldest houses in North Waterford and at one time was owned by members of the Bisbee family, for whom this area of the town was named.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TO MEET MONDAY, FEB. 5

The Bethel Auxiliary of Rumford Community Hospital will be meeting Monday evening, Feb. 5, at the home of Mrs. Ruth Ames, for a pot-luck supper at 6:30 followed by a business meeting. Guest speaker will be John Allen, Controller of Rumford Community Hospital. All those interested are invited to attend.

In and About Bethel

— Virginia Walker, Corres.

Peter Keniston has been named to the Dean's List at CMVT. Miss Pammy Bean has returned to her work at Ledgeview Memorial Home following surgery. Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Douthett, Groveland, Mass., were visiting friends in the area over the week end.

Katrina Lowe has returned to North Conway, N. H., after spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe.

Mrs. Elsie Davis and Mrs. Celia Gorman visited Mr. and Mrs. David Keniston and family, Minot, on Monday. While there they saw a Great Gray Owl, which is unusual for this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Davis are spending some time at his mother's home, Mrs. Amy Davis. The "Top Shelf" music group of which Mr. Davis is leader is playing at "Positively Main Street" in South Paris.

Miss Susan Hutchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hutchins, has received her discharge from the Air Force and is now attending the University of Maine at Orono. Miss Hutchins is enrolled in the Mechanical Engineering course.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walker have received word that their son, Allan (Butch), has been named to the President's List at Utica (N. Y.) State College. He has also been selected for "Who's Who of College Students." Walker will graduate in May.

Older workers receive specialized job counseling, job development, referral to training or health and social services, and job placement through the assistance of the U. S. Employment Service.

SPRING SCHEDULE OF S.A.D. 44 ADULT & COMMUNITY EDUCATION TO START FEB. 5

The spring schedule for the M. S. A. D. #44 Adult and Community Education program is now finalized and is on Page 4. It should be noted that Adult High School Diploma courses will begin the week of Feb. 5. Anyone who has not yet registered for these courses should contact Marie Wilson, Director of Adult and Community Education at Telstar, 824-2138. Personal enrichment courses will begin the week of Feb. 26. Registration is scheduled for the evenings of Feb. 13, 14 and 15 in the office at Telstar.

Some of the new offerings include an evening class on Stretch-Knit sewing, which was formerly available only during the day; a small engines course (by popular demand); a karate course in Woodstock; a series of seminars on Child Abuse and Neglect; and "Learning About Flying". The latter course will include such topics as theory of flight and aircraft structures, flight and safety practices, air traffic control, radio operations, meteorology and weather recognition, cross-country navigation, and altitude control by instruments. The course is designed to help interested parties gain more knowledge about flying. Guest speakers, films, records and models will emphasize certain aspects of the course. One need not own an airplane to take this course!

A community musical is also planned for the spring. Details will be published at a later date in the "Citizen."

For information on any of the courses, call Marie Wilson at Telstar, 824-2138.

GRAYDON E. CAMPBELL

Graydon E. Campbell died Tuesday, Jan. 30, 1979, after a long illness at the Rumford Community Hospital where he had been a patient for the past two weeks. He resided in South Andover for the past nine years, and was formerly of Errol, N. H., where he lived for 32 years.

He was born in Andover Aug. 7, 1905, the son of Herbert and Gertrude Bragg Campbell. He attended schools in Andover and graduated from Andover High School, class of 1924. He was employed by the Union Water Power Company as superintendent of Errol Dam, Errol, N. H., from 1938 to 1970 when he retired to South Andover. He was a member of the Andover First Congregational Church and was a choir member of the church. He was a member of the State Knights of Pythias of New Hampshire and a member of the Rumford Point Men's Club. He is a former trustee and deacon of the Errol Congregational Church. He was married at Newry on July 1, 1933 to Dorothy Young of Buckfield, who survives of South Andover.

Other survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Joan Wallman, Randolph, Vt.; one son, John Campbell, Colebrook, N. H.; one sister, Mrs. Beryl Hilton, York Beach; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon at the Andover First Congregational Church with Rev. David Wuori officiating. Spring interment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover.

MRS. MARION R. COLE

Mrs. Marion R. Cole of Gilead died Friday, Jan. 26, 1979, at the Ledgeview nursing home, West Paris, following a long illness.

She was born June 23, 1910, in Hastings, the daughter of Howard and Rose Taylor. She was a graduate of Gorham, N. H., High School in the class of 1927. Mrs. Cole was co-proprietor with her husband of the Evans Motel, Gilead, and a life-long resident of this area.

Surviving are her husband, Charles R. Cole, Gilead; a sister, Mrs. Grace Douglass, Bethel; a brother, Albert Taylor, Cumberland Center, and a nephew, Warren Noyes, of Westbrook.

Memorial services will be held at the West Bethel Union Church on Sunday, Feb. 4, at 2 p. m. Interment will be at the Cole Cemetery, Gilead, in the spring.
